DRAFT

Dear Mr. Winter,

Thank you for your kind invitation of January 21 addressed to Mr. Colby.

Perhaps you could be more specific. Are you interested in somebody speaking in a substantive area of international affairs, or are you interested in having someone talk about the Agency and the present controversy? If you are interested in a speaker on a specific international subject, perhaps you could indicate which area so we might determine which of our people might be free to take part.
Judging from your last paragraph, however, I would assume you are interested in a speaker who would talk about the Agency in connection with the present inquiry into intelligence matters. If that is the case, it has been our policy to restrict what we have to say to appearances before the Commissions and Committees looking into these matters.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Colby:

The International Affairs Organization is a campus-wide service organization whose primary purpose is bringing programs of significance in the area of international affairs to the UNI campus audience. Each year we attempt to invite someone from the intelligence community to speak on campus. Last year, for example, our speaker in this area was Ray Cline.

We would like very much to extend an invitation to someone from the CIA for this year's program. We think you would find the student audience at UNI (enrollment 10,000) an interested and sympathetic audience.

With your approval, of course, we would hope such a visit might include a talk to a university audience in the morning and an informal colloquium with political science graduate students and faculty in the afternoon.

Sincerely,

Francis Winter
Faculty Advisor
